Ordinarily the pictures of fruit as exhibited by the agents of nurseries are far beyond the true size and beauty of the fruit represented, but this year there are many specimens that look any pictures we ever saw. The Wine Sap, substantial and good, surpasses the agents pictures, while the La Conte and Keifer pears would make their pictures blush if such a thing was possible.

Obituary.

On Friday evening, October 13, 1905, Miss Ida Hurt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hurt, of Cumberland county, left this world for a brighter home above. The deceased was a victim of consumption, age 21 years, a member of the Methodist church, was confined to her bed four weeks.

A number of friends and relatives visited her during her illness. The end came happily. She told the minister that the whole world would not be as much comfort as her religion. She called every member of the family to her bedside and bade them farewell. She told her mother she saw heaven and the gates passing through the gates and coming down for her. Before she died she had some one to hold the lamp at the clock so she could see what time it was. When she saw the beautiful angles coming for her she threw up her hand and said, "Good bye to all, I am going home," and breathed her last. The remains were laid to rest Saturday evening in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. There was not an eye but what was filled with tears, and not one but what felt that they had one more friend in heaven. They sang the songs, "I'll sail no more on the wild stormy sea," and "When the roll is called up yonder," then had prayer. Her funeral was not preached as her request was for Rev. G. R. Payne to do the preaching and he could not be there, but will be attended to in the future. Man Followed by Victor for Protection Against Timber Wolves Which Threatened Him.

Toledo, Ohio.—One of the most remarkable marriage tangles ever known was presented to the authorities in probate court here, when Edward and Fred Metzger, twins, made application for divorce.

When the clerk was preparing the papers it was learned that an elder brother of the twins had married a sister of the two prospective brides of the twins.

He had seen the entry journal above that in May, 1894, Albert Metzger, a brother, had married Ida Miller, the third sister. While the people in the court were having a good laugh at this, Edward spoke up and said:

"Let me tell you something that will set you to thinking deeper. Our father is the husband of the girls' mother."

Lewis C. Metzger married Mrs. Christine Miller Metzger, and had three sons, two of them twins. Mrs. Miller had three daughters, two of whom were the daughters of the brother of the wife of the man in question. In other words, Metzger is the brother-in-law of his stepdaughters, and Mrs. Metzger is the mother-in-law of the stepsons.

Mr. Metzger was married four times. His second marriage was to the brother of his present husband, but by that union she had no children. There are some of the puzzles to work out: If your two brothers married sisters of your wife, what relation would your children be to your brother? What would they be if you and your brother's father took for his second wife the mother of the girls who are now the wives of the three sons?

In spite of all, the complication is entirely legal, because there is no blood relationship between the contracting parties.

MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY

Michigan Farmer Held by Immigration Officials—May Return to Europe.

New York.—August 16. Albert, who says he voted for several presidents, has arrived in the steamer from Hawaii, where he had been a citizen of the United States, but was a citizen of the state of Michigan, he was sent to Ellis Island and is likely to be sent back to Europe, unless the official at Washington intercede.

Albert is 60 years of age, and had been a successful farmer in Michigan for 32 years, when he decided to visit his childhood home in Saxony. He was 60 years ago. Stunned by surprise when he was held up by the immigration officials and told because of his age he was unlikely to be refused entry to America, Albert showed $1,163 in American money to prove that he is not likely to become a public charge.

He declared he regarded himself still capable of performing a farm task. The special board of inquiry, after examining him, found he speaks well. It is declared he must go back to Europe, but friends interested in the matter and placed it before the department of commerce and labor. If the board is upheld, Albert will be a man without a country, as he was never a citizen of Saxony.

Professor Behring Announces Discovery of Efficacious Remedy—Reporters Clamor for News.

Paris.—Prof. Behring has announced that he had discovered a cure for tuberculosis. It is learned that a post office at least. Prof. Behring's remedy comes from milk, from cows previously rendered immune against tuberculosis. As it is scarcely probable this milk can be used in its usual form, there is some reason for believing that a serum alone is employed, and that it could scarcely be utilized in any other way than by subcutaneous injection.

The Pasteur institute has been besieged by reporters clamoring for information. They were received by Prof. Behring's scientific colleague as a guarantee of truthworthiness. He said the remedy was in the form of a powder. That is all he would say.

Clam Is Good Beat Trap.

Frank Myers, who keeps a Clayton, N. J., restaurant, was awakened by a noise in the lower part of his house. Thinking burglars were at work, he armed himself and descended the stairs. He thought the noise was in his room and cautiously went down. The racket increased, and he hurriedly secured a lamp to find that an immense rat had been caught by a clam. The rat, vainly trying to free itself, scampered from one end of the room to the other, until it finally killed the rat, but the clam would not release its hold, and Myers was compelled to cut off the leg of the unfortunate animal.

Status to a Cook.

The people of Nice, France, are going to erect a statue to the memory of a cook, Urbain Dubois. He was for many years head cook for King William II of Prussia, and for a long time, 1870, was declared in his former master. The statue to the patriotic cook will appropriately be erected in the Cent-

RED MEANS LOVE, WHILE HAT-RED IS BLACK.

Theosophist Has New Language of Tints Which Betray Truths of Everyone—Inventor of Everything, Sant, I.

London.—The Theosophist has been a great influence among writers, but is also a great influence in a book which the Theosophistsately has just printed. Here are some of these "thought forms":

Black, says Mrs. Besant, means a man who is a fool, a child, a simpleton, a brick-red to richest sanguine, indicates anger. If you have a clear brown thought—you may be quite certain that avaries is your strong point, or your besetting sin; but if your thoughts show a hard, dull brown-gray it simply means jealousy—a color which is "painfully common."

Black, buck, much alarmed, but testing the feel, quick, clear, to Edward. The buck who returns home, waving his lantern drove the wolves back. He took the hindquarters of the deer and started for camp, the victorious buck still shadowing him. The buck was shielding himself from the wolves with the presence of Ecklund and was recovering his wind. Later he fled into the forest, pursued by many wolves, but prepared to run for his life.

Deep, heavy gray signifies depression, while a livid pale gray is associated with fear. Gray-green is a signal of deceit, and brownish green, flecked with purple and dashes of scarlet, betokens jealousy!

Green seems always to indicate adaptability, but mingled with selfishness it becomes deceit. Affection expresses itself in all shades of crimson and rose. Rose, a touch of blue of devotion in it this may express "strong realization of the universal brotherhood of humanity!"

Deep orange imports pride of ambition, and the various shades of yellow denote intellect, and dull yellow implies that the object is being devoted to selfish purposes.

The different shades of blue indicate religious feeling; "from the dark brown-blue or selfish devotion, or the pallid gray-blue of fetish-worship tinged with fear, to the rich deep clear color of beatitude; abounding in the beautiful pale azure of that highest form which implies self renunciation and union with the Divine."

Some of the illustrations in this extract are of "thinking affect," such as the red sign of "thinking affect," the yellow disc with rose-colored wings, indicating "peace and protection." "Mysterious rage" and "sustained anger" are suggested by red fiery darts which emanate from the mind!

PEARLS "DIE" IN MUSEUM.

Necklace Valued at Over $100,000
Pines for Human Society—
Losing Rich Luster.

Paris.—A pearl necklace of great intrinsic and historic value is "dying" in the Louvre museum.

The necklace was part of the collection of President Thiers, and has a value of over $100,000. This appraisement is so rapidly being lowered that it has even suggested that the pearls would melt before they become entirely valueless.

The necklace has not been worn for a number of years, and it has lost practically all its beautiful luster.

It is a well-known fact among pearl experts that if a pearl is handled too much, and that if banished from human contact they soon lose all the brilliancy and soft luster that make them so attractive.

Frequently pearls that are "dying," as the technical term in the pearl trade is, have been remedied from their obscurity and worn frequently, and have thus recovered their luster.

While it has been suggested that personal influences have something to do with the necklace, it is more likely that it is due to light.

One can wear pearls for 20 years, and they would give no indication of change, yet if one were to lock these pearls up for 20 years, they would show signs of "dying."

ORIGIN OF "LID IS ON."

Expression Was Heard First in Mt. Clemens, Mich.—Story of How It Started.

Mt. Clemens, Mich.—The frequent use of the expression, "the lid is on," brings to mind the fact that it originated in Mt. Clemens, said an old resident.

"It was 15 years ago that 'Ick' Sackett was standing in front of the Sherman house, and in a spirit of fun, wagered with a companion that the next time he crossed the bridge along the river he would climb a telephone pole which stood opposite them. Sackett had the matter fixed beforehand, and a stylishly dressed man carrying a suit case walked by and stopped before the pole, holding it up. The action Sackett's companion took off his hat and wiped his brow in amazement.

"Keen your lid on," said Sackett to his friend, and added as the stranger opened his grip for a pair of clippers, and hastily went to the top of the pole, "you may win the bet, but I'll take the lid off."

The expression was readily adopted by the hosts of gamblers who then flocked to the Bath City, and was soon used to mean a cessation of gambling.

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The hearty welcome given President Roosevelt and his party in Richmond, Va., the Old Confederate Capital, on the 18th, shows that we have one united and loyal people under a great flag, that sectional feelings no longer raise their hideous forms to obstruct the onward march of our country. The President spoke in part as follows:

Mr. Mayor, Governor and You, My Hosts: One among the very many great Virginians at the time when this nation was born—(and I quote, gentlemen, Patrick Henry)—said, "We are no longer New Yorkers, New Englanders, Pennsylvanians or Virginians; we are Americans; and surely, Mr. Mayor, the man would be not a poor American who was not touched and stirred to the depths of the receptivity that I have met with to-day in this great historic city of America. Coming to-day by the statue of Stonewall Jackson, in the vicinity of Lee, I feel what a privilege it is that I, as an American, have in claim that you yourselves have no more right of kinship in Lee and Jackson than I have. I can claim to be a middling good American, because my ancestry was half Southern and half Northern; I was born in the East and I have lived a good while in the West—so long, in fact, that I do not admit that any man can be a better Westerner than I am. There was an uncle of mine, now dead, my mother's brother, who has always been the most true and honest man who attended to me in my nearest to typifying in the flesh, that most beautiful of all characters in fiction, Thackery's Col. Newcome—my uncle, James Dunwoody Bullock, an Admiral in the Confederate navy. In short, gentlemen, I claim to be neither Northerner, nor Southerner, nor Westerner, nothing but a good American, pure and simple. Next a man's having worn the blue comes the fact of the man's having worn the gray, as entitling him to honor in my sight. Last year I told Gen. Fitzhugh Lee that I wanted to add to my collection of autograph letters of great Americans—Lincoln, Grant, Clay, Jefferson (writing to the Governor), your namesake, and Stonewall Jackson, that of Gen. Lee with his autograph. I got from Gen. Fitzhugh Lee a letter of Gen. Lee's and a photograph of him which was handed to me after Gen. Fitzhugh Lee's death. I was not able to thank my old and valued friend, the father, but I put the son on my staff and now I have the grandson of Gen. Grant and the grand-nephew of Gen. Lee and the son of Phil Sheridan on my staff. I think it is a middling good staff too.

Men of His Regime.

In my regiment, organized at the beginning of the Spanish-American War, I think that there were more men whose fathers were the gray than there were men whose fathers wore the blue. The only rivalry that ever entered their heads was rivalry as to which man could show himself best entitled to the praise of having done all that in him lay for our country and our part as follows:

Mr. Mayor, Governor and You, My Hosts: One among the very many great Virginians at the time when this nation was born—(and I quote, gentlemen, Patrick Henry)—said, "We are no longer New Yorkers, New Englanders, Pennsylvanians or Virginians; we are Americans; and surely, Mr. Mayor, the man would be not a poor American who was not touched and stirred to the depths of the receptivity that I have met with to-day in this great historic city of America. Coming to-day by the statue of Stonewall Jackson, in the vicinity of Lee, I feel what a privilege it is that I, as an American, have in claim that you yourselves have no more right of kinship in Lee and Jackson than I have. in an adjoining county, yet it carries such responsibilities and is so closely interwoven with the development and advancement of this part of the State that we feel disposed to speak a good word when merit sustains it. The Journal says: "Prof. J. S. Lawhorn, President of the Middleburg Normal College, is the Democratic nominee for school superintendent of Casey county, with good prospects for winning, although the county is Republican by a big majority. Prof. Lawhorn is a graduate of the State College, and one of the most competent educators in the State. He would make a model officer, and a host of friends are hoping he will win in November. Prof. J. A. Sharon, of the Paris Schools, has the following to say concerning prof. Lawhorn:

"I have learned that Prof. J. S. Lawhorn, who is well known, will make the race for Superintendent of Schools in Casey county. I am glad to know this. We should just such men to guide and inspire the school forces of each county in the State. His opponent must be a very strong man or old Casey will roll up a very strong majority for Lawhorn. Politics should not interfere to defeat the school interests of a county when such material can be had."

Gentlemen, I cannot sufficiently express to you my deep appreciation of the man in whom you have reposed me today. You cannot be nearly as glad to see me as I am to see you. Let me say once more what I said in my formal address. Think of the good fortune that is ours, as a people, in having each of us, whether we in our own persons or through our ancestors, wore the blue or the gray, the proud right to challenge as our own all of the valor, all of the self-devotion, all of the steadfast adherence to right as God gave to each man to see the right, shown alike by the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray in the great contest that was waged from '61 to '65."

We clip from Southern School Journal the following plain statement concerning Prof. Lowhorn, who is a candidate for School Superintendent of Casey county. It is not the intention of this paper to meddle with matters not rightfully ours, and while Mr. Lowhorn is seeking a public position in an adjoining county, yet it carries such responsibilities and is so closely interwoven with the development and advancement of this part of the State that we feel disposed to speak a good word when merit sustains it. The Journal says: "Prof. J. S. Lawhorn, President of the Middleburg Normal College, is the Democratic nominee for school superintendent of Casey county, with good prospects for winning, although the county is Republican by a big majority. Virgie Bowers, who killed a promiscuous Knox county man near London, a short time ago, was tried in the Laurel circuit court and given a life sentence. Such a verdict for cold blooded murder so enraged the friends of the dead man as to form a mob and hang Bowers. It was accomplished in short order. No one can defend the mob or any one who participated in the hanging and while it does not redound to the good name of that section or this State, yet it shows that juries ought not to be forced to inflict punishment for such crimes, but only determine the guilt or innocence and the degree of crime of the party charged, and the law should place the punishment. Again we say that a life sentence is not equal to death and no legislature or any other body can make it so. It looks like the criminal laws should be so changed as mete out justice and satisfy the people.

In another column will be found the names of W. F. Neat, Democratic candidate for f o r County Judge, J. H. Yotng for County Court Clerk, and J. A. Diddle, for Sheriff.

For some time these gentlemen have been urged to run for the race and at last have consented to do so and their names will reach the ticket through petition of legal voters of the county. These gentlemen are too well known to need any introduction from us and it goes without saying that no better men have ever sought responsible positions in the affairs of this country.

Mr. Neat, known nearly to every voter, is preeminently qualified to make a County Judge. His knowledge, his experience and his freedom from rancorous partisan bias and spirit has pointed him out to the people as the man amongst men for this responsible position. Mr. Young and Diddle are both successful business men, upright and honest, industrious and courageous, embodying every qualification necessary to fill the positions they seek with credit to themselves and profit to the county.

Mr. J. H. Gallagher has been appointed Traveling Passenger agent of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railway Co., vice Mr. Geo. L. Garrett resigned. Mr. Gallagher was for four years chief clerk of General Passenger Department in charge of the advertising and made a most efficient official. The promotion is a much deserved one and we bespeak a successfull administration under the guidance of Mr. Gallagher.

Mr. James A. Shuttleworth, a wealthy Louisville merchant, has given to Caldwell College, of Danville, 14 acres of land adjoining the College property, valued at $30,000. It is the purpose of the donor to furnish the South with a school equal to Vassar. Mr. Shuttleworth was born and reared in Campbellsville.

Judge Baker adjourned court at Jamestown last Saturday, after completing all work on the docket. It was a short, speedy term which redowns to the good of the State in the reduction of expenses. Thousands of dollars could be saved by the commonwealth if courts were pushed as private business.

Look over the Democratic ticket, as presented in this issue, and you will be convinced that it is made of our best material and worthy the support of every citizen who believes in competent men for responsible positions.

On the 18th, T. Lee Clark, cashier of the Enterprise National Bank, Alleghany, Penn., committed suicide. Short of course, it's awful to be a cashier, it seems.

The Democratic ticket of this county is not a full one, but as good as any party or people could present so far as it goes.

A military company is being organized at Middlesboro.

FREE TRAINING OF NURSES.

By the terms of a fund to be administered in connection with the Philadelphia School of Nurses, Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia, a number of young women from every county will receive free training in nursing. It is planned to ultimately reach and help in this way every village and town. The young women will be provided with room, board, nurse, etc., by all the agents of the well-appointed Christian homes. At graduation the diplomas of the School and the Order of the Red Cross will be conferred, qualifying for practice in any state or country; the railroad fare will then be paid back home. Those applying and chosen to receive the benefits of this fund will be given two years' training, with a rich experience in nursing the sick of the city under skilled leaders. The term may be shortened to eighteen months by taking a preliminary course of six months' reading and study at home. A special short course enables young women to quickly qualify themselves for self-support and a substantial income. In addition to regular nursing, the young women are taught to prepare their own health; how to recognize, avoid and destroy contagion; how to establish and maintain perfect sanitary conditions about the home; they are prepared for positions as office nurse and physician's assistant; they get a practical knowledge of City Mission movements, deacons' training, college settlement work, and are trained for special positions of trust in institutions. The school is ten years old and is endorsed by physicians, leading educators and prominent men throughout the country.

Russell—Clark.

At the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Curd, in Bowling Green, Ky., on Tuesday, 9 a.m., a beautiful and impressive ceremony by Dr. R. W. Browder united the lives of two young people in the presence of a few friends of the contracting parties. Dr. C. M. Russell, of Columbia and Miss Angelina Clark, of Bowling Green, Dr. Russell being the physician who enjoys the confidence of our people, not only as a physician, but as a brightened gentleman. Miss Clark is a young lady of accomplishments and is held in high esteem by the people of this little city as well as in Bowling Green, where she was reared and educated. Her acquaintance here is due to her connection with the Lindsay-Wilson school, last year, as music teacher, while her many friends were made by the attractiveness of true womanly virtues that adorn her every day life. The people of Columbia generally and the News especially extend congratulations, and we wish this happy couple to our city, who are due to arrive here Thursday.

Victim of Old Bunco Game.

G. H. Williams, of Campbellsville, reported to the detectives' office that he was bailed out of $70 this morning at the Tenth-street and Broadway station by two strangers, whom he met shortly after his arrival from Taylor county.

Williams and the men became fast friends. One of the strangers said he must have $70 before the bank opened and gave Williams a check for $900 to hold, when he made the borrow. Williams is still holding the check.—Louisville Times.

BATTLE.

On Streets of Campbellsville Between Officers and Moonshiners.

Quite a battle occurred at Campbellsville early Wednesday evening between officers and three men, two of whom are unknown, who were disposing of a barrel of moonshine whiskey which they had in a two horse wagon. One of the men on the wagon was captured, but the other two escaped. The one caught was Dell Bell, a resident of Brush Creek, Green county.

Shortly after the three men with the barrel in the wagon appeared in Campbellsville, the officers got wind of it and sent a man, Sam Vancleave, to learn what the men were up to. He informed the officers, and Chief of Police Wm. Sanders and Mayor Walling summoned a posse for the purpose of capturing the men. Those on the wagon had evidently become suspicious of Vancleave, for as soon as the posse appeared, they opened fire and ran. The fire was returned, but the men on the wagon, with the exception of Bell, escaped. Vancleave was shot in the shoulder, but so far as known, no one else was hurt. The horses and wagon and whiskey were confiscated, and will be sold by the government.

Bell will be brought here and tried to-morrow morning at ten o'clock by the United States Commissioner, Chas. C. Boldrich, Lebanon Falon.

The above shows that the officials of Campbellsville are not only game but have the good of their town and community at heart. Peace and prosperity reigns. If every town in the country would go after the peddlers of whiskey like Campbellsville, its sale would be limited only to a few of the most daring.

Miss Carrie Belles Marry in Louisville.

Miss Carrie Harmon left Dunnville, Sunday, to meet Dr. J. D. Combest, formerly of Phil but lately of Jonesville, Ky. They are now united in marriage. The bride is a handsome, educated and amiable lady, and can count herself worthy to be the bride of so nice a gentleman as Dr. J. D. This paper extends best wishes.

Miss Hattie Cundiff, the beautiful daughter of W. E. Cundiff, left at the same time to be married to Mr. Fred Reigle in Louisville. Miss Hattie is an industrious, refined lady, and will make a true wife to whoever may have won her. A thousand boys will regret that her choice was other than one of her near acquaintances, and hope she is married to a gentleman worthy of so good a lady.

The above weddings were solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wilkinson by Eld. W. G. Montgomery, of this city.—Casey News.

There was preaching at the Presbyterian, Methodist and Christian churches, last Sunday, and an all day singing in the court house and yet good audiences at every place. This shows the growing sentiment of our people, it marks them as a church going people. Why should any man who loves the good and wants to give his children an education, longer wait to take up his abode in Columbia.

The meeting at the Christian church is still in progress and growing in interest every day. Eld. J. Q. Montgomery expounding the scriptures with great power. His sermon last Sunday, subject, "The Church of Christ," was pointed, forcible, and entertaining and the large audience seemed delighted. Attend this meeting and you will be well paid.

Mr. Walker found him much improved in health, his leg being entirely healed, and able to go on crutches. Mr. Walker found the home ideal in every particular and the Old Soldiers enjoying it.

The Singing last Sunday, in the court house, was highly enjoyed by the many present, and so many were there in the afternoon, as to crowd the large hall and leave many on the outside. It was our pleasure to hear a few songs led by Mr. J. S. Stapp, and the music was so soul stirring as to make us long for another, just like this one, in the future. We did not hear other leaders, but in justice to Mr. Stapp we desire to say that music is in his voice.

Gov. J. R. Hindman dropped into our office last day and in conversation he stated: "I notice that my friend Tim Collins has gained a notoriety as a pumpkin man and I believe I am in the lead of the aforesaid gentleman in length of vine and size of product. I planted three hills and all grew well. There are now two vines 75 feet in length. The three hills covered a large part of my potato patch, which is not a small piece of ground. I pulled one pumpkin which measured 6 feet in circumference and tipped the scales at 6 pounds. There were quite a number of other very large ones but the weighing job was too much for me. Mr. Collins can get a few seed from some of my choice specimens on the condition that he will agree to enrich his garden and properly work them."

Mrs. S. C. STRANGE.

Dr. J. D. Russell, manager for the Adair Oil Company is experiencing much trouble in oildrilling on the Powell farm. He has not yet reached a depth of 100 feet due to breakage of various kinds. At any rate Mr. Russell has taken a rosy view of the situation and says he is confident of a good strike later on. At present oil and water is flowing from the well.

The good condition of our roads for the last two months has been of much worth to the heavy wagon traffic from the county to Columbia, principally due from lumber and staves and largely composed of the latter. Some days the Square has almost been blocked with wagons and it is not an uncommon thing to see 8 to 10 wagons loaded with barrel material coming in at one time.

Robert Watson, a young man living near Watson, in the Green river country, accidentally shot himself Monday morning while handling a revolver he thought to be unloaded. The ball passed through his thigh and lodged in the calf of his leg. Fortunately the ball missed the main artery and he is getting along as well as could be expected.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Columbia Steam Laundry in this issue, a new and needed industry for this section now in operation. Its first work was presented last week as good as any one could desire. Remember that this enterprise is local and dependent on local patronage and so long as it gives good results it is the duty of every citizen to give it aid. Read the advertisement.

Dr. E. L. Powell, who is soon to lecture in this city, is one of the ablest and most eloquent speakers of Louisville.

He will be lecturing in the First Christian church, that city, for the past fifteen years, and it is conceded that he preaches to the largest congregation of any minister in the city. Services are frequently held by him at Macamay's theater, on which occasions that magnificent auditorium is filled to overflowing. His sermons are often published in the Louisville papers and read with interest by the people of the entire nation.

For Sale.

My farm on Party's Fork, five miles South of Columbia, containing 265 acres, of bottom land, good building, plenty of water and timber. The farm is in a good state of cultivation.

J. R. Johnson.

Arrangements have been made for a lecture once a month at the Lindsay-Wilson school during the winter. Dr. Gross Alexander, Dr. T. C. D. F. Thomas have promised to deliver one each. Dr. Pinson also is expected to deliver at least one during the present term. These lectures will prove profitable as well as entertaining to the students and citizens of this section who enjoy hearing deep thinkers on timely topics.

John Troutman, son of Mrs. Troutman, of the Bliss country, while out squirrel hunting Monday morning happened to a very painful accident. Young Troutman was in the act of shooting a squirrel when the animal moved and as he lowered the gun it was discharged, the ball entering his ankle, coming out the bottom of his foot.

The wound is a very painful one, but we trust that it will heal rapidly and Mr. Troutman will soon be out again.

An unusually good letter, from James Town, appears in this issue of the News. It would render the paper of more value if our correspondents in the different parts of the county and adjoining counties would take a little more interest in their reports. It would also be worth more to their respective communities. Correspondents wake up and put your wits to work. If no one is reporting from your community, remember that a good report is always acceptable.

We desire to tender our thanks to the many subscribers in Casey and Russell counties who came forward last week, with the cash. A paper cannot exist without means, and a county paper is largely dependent on its subscribers. There are many yet in arrears, and we trust that every person knowing himself to be indebted to the office will settle the same at an early day. We have been in a foul horse power era, and some other fixtures that necessitated the expenditure of money $400, and to plain, we need the money. You may owe only $1, but there are hundreds of such accounts on our books which means a good sum when bulked. A statement will be mailed to you just as soon as your account can be settled.

SOLVE LAKE MYSTERY

A DIVER LOCATES SCHOONER WRECK OF 14 YEARS AGO.

Fishermen's Nets Become Caught in Derelict Vessel Off Michigan Port—Investigation Follows—Various Surmises.

Michigan City, Ind.—A lake mystery of several years is believed to have been solved by the discovery of a wrecked three-masted schooner ten miles northeast of the port and three miles off New Buffalo, Mich.

Some days ago fishermen from New Buffalo discovered a derelict vessel off that port, their nets becoming caught on the vessel. A Kent, of the life-saving station of this city, who with his crew and Diver George Culbert, went to New Buffalo and made investigations. Diver Culbert located the wreck in 56 feet of water.

In view of the wreck, as it was believed of the steamer Chiiora, of the

SAM HISLE EXECUTED.

He Confessed That He Was Guilty of the Assault.

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 20.—Sam Hisle, colored, was hanged in the jail yard here. He went to the scaffold with a firm step and without assistance. He stated that he was guilty of the crime for which he was about to suffer death and that he freely forgave his victim, John C. Scott, for the assault.

He asked the assistance of the officers and the white people to root out the colored den of iniquity which had led to his ruin and to help the colored people to a higher plane of life. His last words broken down by the little struggling. The crime for which he was executed was an atrocious one. On August 14 he went to the house of Mrs. Bond and tried to assault her, but she escaped. He then went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Scott, and there alone assaulted her and fled. He was captured at Paris and taken to Lexington for safekeeping. When brought here for trial a mob was formed to lynch him, but the sheriff and circuit judge by strenuous efforts succeeded in preventing it.

MARCUM'S REMAINS.

They May Be Dug Up To Settle a Doubt—Grand Jury Dismissed.

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 20.—The grand jury which has been investigating the Marcusum murder was dismissed by Circuit Judge Riddle, who said that it would not find an indictment against any one else for the murder.

Commonwealth's Attorney Adams suggested that the grand jury should be given time to consider the evidence given before the trial of Jett and White, and that the trial of the negroes should be adjourned to give the grand jury time to consider the evidence.

The Hume carried a crew of seven men, none of whom reached shore. Diver Culbert reports that he searched the wrecked schooner carefully for a name, but found none. He said that the vessel was never aground, of course, notwithstanding the fact that thousands of dollars were spent in an effort to locate the missing vessel.

BARS FLIRTING IN CHURCH

Sious City, Ia., Y. M. C. A. Secretary
Claps Bars Behind
Hymn Books.

Sious City, Ia.—No more tender messages and exchange of confidences will be permitted between Pretty Sue and Gallant Joe, behind sheltering hymn books in Sioux City church if the suggestion of Secretary Hellerman of the Y. M. C. A. to the ministerial association is followed out.

Secretary Hellerman was defending the Y. M. C. A. against the general charge that the association does not fulfill its mission in that it fails to get a greater number of young men to attend church services.

"Would you think of putting a newly-born babe into an ice box?" inquired the secretary with asperity. "That is what it would be for you men to go to the church services if they are not going to continue."

They got 14,000 young men into our association rooms last year and threw about them good influences and got them to attend our Sunday meetings. What the church should do is to have the young men come to our building to show our young men that the churches are attractive.

"The young men you are attending your churches are usually accompanied by young women, and I tell you young men is not susceptible to religious methods. They are outside a young woman and has the opportunity to visit with her. They ought to be free from this temptation and the church should look after the young men and not complain because the Y. M. C. A. does not do it all."

KING OF FINANCE TO QUIT

J. P. Morgan Jr.'s Election to Directorate to Be Prediction of Father's Retirement.

New York, Oct. 20.—The retirement of J. Pierpont Morgan in favor of his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., as president of the London branch of the banking house, was predicted in Wall street.

The election of Morgan, Jr., to the directorate of the Western Pacific Railway company, the first office he has ever occupied, in the United States was taken in the financial district as confirmation of the report that the son was soon to relieve his father of his business cares.

Now it is said that by January 1, 1906, Morgan, Jr., will be 50 years old and he has stepped at least partially into his father's shoes on this side of the Atlantic, and that his election as a director of the Western Pacific was the first of such honors in 35 corporations of the elder Morgan is at present a distinct possibility.

For the past three years the elder Morgan has given more of his attention to charity and art, and less to his vast business interests. His wealth is estimated at from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000.
